EMT Paramedic

Frontline Medical Transport, Del Rio, Tx.

Supervisor: Reginaldo Flores, (830) 719-3613; may contact

03/2025 - Present

Acting as primary caregiver through paramedicine and prehospital interventions, transport patients to higher level of care facilities. Transport times average around two and a half hours without the ability to have immediate help for critical patients due to rural area of service. Facilitating smooth transition of patient care to receiving facilities to ensure proper care continues or is elevated depending on changing circumstances.

- Primary caregiver on patient transport: Provide care at the paramedic level in accordance with written transport order from sending facilities. In some circumstances, working with sending facilities to amend transport orders from medical physician to better care for patients during travel due to patient diagnosis and capabilities of ambulance service. Continue care for varying degrees of patient statuses through safety and professionalism.
- Longer than average transport times: Due to rural area location from higher level of care, transport times are increased above the usual larger city average of 10 to 15 minutes or less to 2.5 to 3 hours. The time and distance of transport does not lessen the possible severe nature of call type. All trauma and medical based cases can be taken by ground crew.
- Conducting professional handoff to receiving facilities: Working with different receiving hospitals, of different medical specialties, to insure patient care and information is passed along in appropriate manner. This also includes military and civilian trauma centers and pediatric specialty facilities.

0311 Infantry Rifleman

United States Marine Corps

7/3/2005 - 7/4/2010

While serving in the United States Marine Corps as an infantry rifleman, security forces and Marine Corps Martial arts instructor, I was responsible for completing mission-oriented tasks on time and effectively. Lead other Marines in static and dynamic security rolls to include duty stations requiring a TS/SCI clearance. Lead Marines in infantry scenarios and conduct training as a Marine Corps Martial Arts Instructor. Deployed with a Marine Expeditionary Unit and conducted bilateral training with other nations as well as maintaining readiness response status.

- Complete mission-oriented tasks: In accordance with Marine Corps doctrine, I completed assigned tasks varied from physical fitness, military occupational specialty training, on mission tasks to standard military functions. As acting squad leader or team leader I completed mandatory personal fitness reports to aid Marines in maintaining career standards throughout their time while assigned to the same unit.

- Leading and teamwork: Throughout my active-duty time I worked with Marines in a team capacity to accomplish missions. Teamwork is a large part of infantry and was utilized daily. I have lead Marines within a chain of command from 4 – 12 Marines depending on certain criteria. As a senior Marine and noncommissioned officer, I took part in mission planning and planning of logistics for missions.

Trained with United States Secret Service, Federal Bureau of Investigations and The Defense Intelligence Agency in joint agency training to include counter surveillance activities.

- Deployed on the 11th Marine Expeditionary Unit 2009-2010
